BIO

Ik'It is an intense 13 foot tall mutant Tapir zoopremacist with a prehensile nose trunk and extra-strong skin. And whose brain projects a powerful telepathic arm that can rip your body in half.

Ik'It delights in seeing others nervously watching him play with his favorite fidget toy, a strange and intimidating black box, and always relishes the opportunity to describe the effects of this "Trek Disintegration Bomb" which atomizes anything caught in a 100 foot blast radius.

JAMES' NOTES

"What's a Tapir?" I had to ask when Sailor said they wanted their GAMMA WORLD character to be one. And I laughed out loud when I looked it up. So good!

And Sailor totally made that angry little pig-man pose so I had to draw Ik'It with that same expression.
